On the occasion of the "International Day for the Elimination of Violence Against Women", established by the General Assembly of the United Nations, during which all over the world: governments, associations and non-governmental organizations hold demonstrations to remember those who have suffered and suffer violence.

ComeUnaMarea Onlus Association renews its commitment and will be alongside abused women by organizing an online meeting on 25th of November 2020 with partner associations.

Since history shows that violence is a phenomenon inherent in the experience of relationships between individuals, we will propose a journey through time on the evolution of the female condition, starting from some of the best-known female figures of Greek mythology, then returning to current events with a 'analysis of the social emergency, that exploded during 2020 for the considerable increase in cases of violence against women during forced quarantine. We will see how this worrying phenomenon is nowadays in Italy and in the partner countries of the "FLAVIE - Fighting Loud Against Violence In Europe" project in which ComeUnaMarea represents Italy.

At the end of the conference:

- screening of the video "Violence against women - the art screen". The movie shows works of famous artists, some of whom have used art as a tool to condemn gender violence while others used it as a justification and legitimation of the condition of inferiority of women during history.
- Reading of excerpts from the book "the silent barbarism" by Alba Arena.
